PREFATORY NOTICE.

In 1855 a complete catalogue of the New York State Library was published. The Trustees of the Library, though authorized by law to publish at this time a like catalogue, have deemed it proper to issue supplements instead of full catalogues, until the library has attained such a magnitude as to warrant the embodiment of the whole into a single work.

They now present the first supplement to the catalogue of the General Library. Those of the Law Library, and of the manuscripts, engravings, coins, medals, etc., are in course of preparation, and will follow in due time. These supplements will be properly distributed, and together with the catalogue of 1855 will form really one work, exhibiting the present condition of the Library, and opening its treasures to all who wish to explore them.

This volume contains the titles of works added since the publication of the catalogue of 1855, with such titles of that catalogue as it has been thought best to modify.

The whole number of volumes in the Library at that date was 43,634; of which 13,623 were in the Law Library, and 30,011 in the General Library. The aggregate number now on the shelves is 59,167, being an increase, since the last publication, of 15,533 volumes; of which 11,774 are additions to the General Library, and 3,759 to the Law Library.

Among the additions are twelve thousand pamphlets and two thousand almanacs, which have been bound in six hundred volumes. The pamphlets are about one-half British, and the other half American. The titles of all of them are recorded in their alphabetical places in the Catalogue. The names of the real or supposed authors of six hundred of such books and pamphlets, as were published anonymously, have been ascertained from the best sources, and are appended to the titles, with cross-references.

The most noticeable of all the additions is the immense series, amounting already to nearly seven hundred volumes, containing 30,000 Specifications and Drawings of the British Patents, from the commencement to the present time. This magnificent publication of the British Government surpasses, in extent and expense, any single undertaking of the press since the invention of printing, and its value, both for the History of Invention and for Inventors, is inestimable. The number of complete sets is very limited: the State Library was highly favored therefore in the gift of a copy from the British Commissioners of Patents, which was obtained on the personal representations of Mr. Pruyn, chairman of this committee.

From the King of Denmark, has been received, through the kind offices of Col. De Raasloff, the Chargé d' affaires of Denmark to this country, the splendid work of Dr. C. R. Lepsius, on the Monumental Antiquities of Egypt and Ethiopia, in twelve volumes imperial folio; and from the King of Prussia, the complete works of Frederick II, in fifteen volumes quarto.

The present catalogue is constructed on the same general principles with that of 1855, with some new features to render it more useful; the Explanations preceding the first page will show for the most part what the improvements are. The labor of its preparation has been performed by Mr. Homes, one of the assistant librarians, with occasional aid from the other officers of the Library. The Trustees bear cheerful testimony to the ability and zeal with which the work has been executed.

II. RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE LIBRARY, PRESCRIBED BY THE TRUSTEES.

1. The Library shall be open to the public daily as required by law (Sundays and fifteen days from the fifth to the twentieth of August excepted), from the hour of nine in the morning till five in the afternoon; and during the sessions of the Legislature, till six in the afternoon, except on Saturdays, when it will be closed at five. While the Court of Appeals, or any general term of the Supreme Court, is in session at the Capitol during the recess of the Legislature, the Law Library will be open till eight o'clock in the afternoon, except on Saturdays as aforesaid.

* This Court was abolished under the State Constitution of 1846.

2. It shall be the duty of the Librarian and the Assistant Librarians, carefully to preserve the books, maps, charts, engravings, manuscripts, medals, furniture, and other property belonging to the Library. They will be severally held accountable for the full value of every article missing from their respective departments, and for every injury except from ordinary use, unless it can be shown that some other person is responsible for such loss or injury: the amount of such loss or injury to be deducted from the salary of such officer, pursuant to section 3 of chapter 381 of the Laws of 1840.

3. Whenever the Library is open, the Librarian and Assistant Librarians shall be in attendance: they shall preserve order, and exclude, if necessary, any disorderly person: they shall prevent smoking, loud talking, and all noise inappropriate to the quietness of a place of study.

4. Any person who wishes to obtain any book for perusal in the General Library, will be furnished at the desk of the Librarian in attendance, with a card, on which he will inscribe from the Catalogue the title of the book desired, and his own name. The book thus received must not be taken from the library hall: on returning it to the Librarian's desk, the card will be given up; otherwise the party will remain responsible for the book. The Librarians will exercise a proper discrimination as to the delivery of such books as they may judge liable to be injured. Manuscripts, rare and valuable books and plates are excluded from this rule: they will be shown only on special application to the Librarian in charge, and under such regulations as the circumstances of each case may, in his judgment, require.

5. In compliance with the provisions of the statute above set forth, any member of the Senate or Assembly, during the session of the legislature or of the Senate only, is permitted, under the restrictions, forfeitures and penalties hereinafter mentioned, to take to his boarding-house or private room any book belonging to the Library, except such as are herein determined to be necessary always to be kept in the library as books of reference. The Judges of the Court of appeals, the Justices of the supreme court, the Heads of the several departments, and the Trustees of the Library, have, by statute, the same right to take books from the Library, and under the same regulations as the members of the Legislature. No book, map, manuscript, or other article belonging to the Library, shall be at any time taken out of the library by any other person, for any purpose whatever. The restrictions and terms above referred to are contained in the next three rules.

6. No book can be taken from the Library, until its title, and the name of the person taking it, have been registered by the Librarian. A card must also be given for it, in the manner required by the fourth rule.

7. No person can take or detain from the Library more than two volumes at any one time, or for a longer period than two weeks.

8. If, on reasonable notice from the Librarian or either of the Assistant Librarians that the time for which any book or books taken or detained has expired, any person shall omit to return to the Library any such book or books for more than three days after such notice shall have been given; or if any book, map, chart, engraving, medal, or other article belonging to the Library be lost or destroyed, or so far injured as to be equivalent, in the judgment of the Librarian or Assistant Librarian in charge, to a total loss for the purposes of the Library; the person by whom such loss, destruction or injury has been occasioned, or who shall fail to make such return, shall be charged the full value of the book or article so lost, destroyed, injured or not returned; and in case of the loss of a book, or its not being returned, if it belong to a set of two or more volumes, he shall be charged the value of the whole set, or as much as it may cost to perfect it, at the election of the Library Committee. For any injury not amounting to destruction to any book, map, chart, engraving, medal or other article as aforesaid, the person causing the same shall pay a sum sufficient to compensate for such injury. This rule shall be of general application.

9. The Trustees hereby declare, agreeably to the provisions of the Revised Statutes; that the following books are always to be kept in the Library as books of reference, to wit: All the books in the Law Library; and, in the General Library, all dictionaries, encyclopædias, registers, directories, newspapers, maps and engravings, and books which are valuable for their rarity or antiquity.

10. Books of reference referred to in the preceding article, cannot be taken from the Library; except that during the sessions of the Legislature or of the Courts, any member thereof may take to any room in the Capitol any such book, on leaving a card for the same as required by the fourth rule, after being duly registered. The book must be returned on the same day on which it is taken.

11. No books belonging to the Law Library can be taken to the General Library for perusal; nor are books, maps, engravings, or any other article belonging to the General Library, to be taken to the Law Library for perusal or examination.

12. For the better preservation from injury of the more costly collections of engravings, and the rare works and maps belonging to the Library, neither the Librarian nor the Assistant Librarians shall exhibit them to any person other than those authorized to take books from the Library, except on a written request from a member of the Joint Library Committee of the Senate and Assembly, the Speaker of the Assembly, or one of the Trustees of the Library or the Secretary.

13. Three days before the day fixed for the adjournment of any session of the Legislature, or of the Senate only, the Librarian shall address a note to each member of the Legislature or of the Senate, as the case may be, having any book belonging to the Library, requesting the return thereof within twenty-four hours.

14. After the expiration of the said twenty-four hours, the Librarian shall immediately make out a list of the members of each house who have omitted to return any books belonging to the Library, specifying the volumes retained by each; and a list of those against whom any charges for any injury to or loss of books exist, stating the amount of them; which list shall be alphabetically arranged according to the names of the respective members, and shall be certified to be correct. To the President of the Senate, the Librarian shall forthwith deliver the list relating to that body; and the list containing the names of the members of the Assembly, he shall forthwith deliver to the Speaker; and upon each list shall be written a copy of the section of the Revised Statutes in regard to this matter above set forth.

15. Twenty days before the opening of any annual session of the Legislature, the Librarian shall report in writing to the Trustees the title of every book, map, chart, print, engraving, or other article missing from the Library since the catalogue of the previous year was made out, or, if no such catalogue has been made, then since the date of the said Librarian's last annual report to the trustees; together with the name or names of the persons who appear, from the entries of the Librarian, to have borrowed or detained the same, to the end that such list may be submitted to the Legislature by the Trustees.

16. All penalties imposed under any of these rules may be remitted by the Library Committee, either wholly, or on such terms as they may deem proper.

EXPLANATIONS.

THE titles of books will be found under the name of the author, state, society, convention, etc., publishing them, the names being arranged alphabetically. State Documents being in the Law Library, reports to governments by individuals are occasionally excepted from the rule.—Surnames of foreign authors preceded by De, La, Les, Du, or Des, are entered under those prefixes.—Anonymous books, are inserted in the same alphabetical order with the names of authors, under the first word of the title page not an article or a preposition. Anonymous biographies are placed under the name of the individual treated of.—Periodicals are recorded under their specific names, or those of the society publishing them. Town and state directories, etc., are under the name of the town or state.

Subject-Index.—In the Index following the catalogue, the subjects of the books are arranged alphabetically, and abbreviated titles of all the books and pamphlets placed under the subject. Topics, which from their nature are already indexed by the heading in the catalogue, are not usually repeated in the Index. The Catalogues, Dictionaries, Encyclopædias, Newspapers, Periodicals, Society Transactions, etc., recorded in the catalogue, are grouped together under those names in the Index. Cross-references to cognate subjects, and from the popular to the scientific name, and vice versa, are constantly made.

ABBREVIATIONS:

Italics in the body of a title are additions by the editor; as are also the names of authors of anonymous publications when in similar type.

..... indicate omissions made in the title. Omissions in titles of discourses and reports are indicated merely by commas.

[ ] Brackets enclosing a heading indicate that the edition of which the title follows was published anonymously. Brackets enclosing titles indicate that the volume was collected and its title prepared in the Library. Brackets enclosing a cross-reference indicate, that the reference made is to an anonymous book.

† An obelisk after a heading indicates that the same heading or name may be found in the Catalogue of 1855.

F°, 8°, 12°, etc., refer to the apparent size of a volume, and not to the absolute folding of the sheets.

v. Volume or volumes.

p. follows numbers, representing the number of pages of which a work or a volume is composed.

Alm., Cat., Pam., indicate the collections of volumes of Almanacs, Catalogues and Pamphlets.
